Dear friends,

We write to you again to urge you to support this important project. Since January 2015, this film has been in production in the United States and Europe, amassing over 30 hours of oncamera interviews and location shooting in Austria, Germany, Norway, New York, Maine, Arizona and Pennsylvania.

The film will also includes significant amounts of never-before-published historic materials from Wilhelm Reich's prolific archives: photographs, personal and scientific films, and voice recordings.

Wilhelm Reich is widely considered the father of body-psychotherapy. He has done as important work in understanding human feelings, motivations, life and energy (bio-energetics) as anyone in the 20th Century, yet he has been mis-understood and ignored. He was perhaps the first true scientist of subjectivity, bringing subjective feeling experience out of philosophy into science.

Please join me and the Foundation in supporting this important endeavor. View the project video and make a contribution - only 16 days left!
